

You have inspired me more. Being a reader of your book, I have travelled along with you. Each milestone you passed is a lesson for those who give up. Truly impressed !

You may not believe but I read your book in just three days that I have never done before. You are a brave man who is sharing all those moments that some even don't share with close friends. Your book is guidebook for those who become depressed after such accidents in young age. Remain blessed.
