

amjad-islam-amjad: Meeting with Amjad Siddiqi

My very first meeting with Amjad Siddiqi sahib took place some thirty years ago in Riyadh. The impression of a brave and determined personality that was established at that time remained completely intact, and in every subsequent meeting, it kept growing further. This is a very welcome and promising matter that he is compiling his life story in book form; I maintain a firm belief that many people will benefit from it, because its author is a most radiant example of keeping one's head held high to stay alive under any given condition.
